Overview

Syedda S. Amin was a chemical engineer for a Fortune 100 company before attending law school. She now applies her analytical background to assist clients with computational aspects of employment law.

Syedda is one of the founding shareholders of Littler's Data Analytics group. As a member of Littler's Class Action Practice Group and Pay Equity Assessments Group, she coordinates statistical analyses to assess clients' hiring, promotion, termination, and pay practices. Syedda is a member of the Firm's Business Restructuring Practice Group, where she counsels clients undergoing reductions-in-force. She also serves as member of the Diversity and Inclusion Council.
